Job Summary

Facilitates continuity of established nursing practice and comprehensive nursing care delivery during evenings, nights, weekends, and holidays. Supports and upholds the objectives of Nursing Affairs and Hospital Administration. Serves as the primary nursing authority during after-hours operations, ensuring patient safety and smooth hospital functioning.

Essential Duties & Responsibilities

1. Represents Nursing Administration during evenings, nights, weekends, and holidays, ensuring continuity of established nursing practice and comprehensive nursing care delivery across the hospital.
2. Ensures appropriate utilization of nursing resources hospital-wide. Confers with Charge Nurses regarding patient acuity and staffing changes required. Determines staffing adjustments and approves overtime to provide for unplanned situations.
3. Maintains awareness of resource utilization across all units, exercising care in the ordering and use of staff, equipment, and materials. Coordinates patient flow and bed management during assigned shifts.
4. Observes and evaluates nursing care effectiveness on shift and communicates identified issues to Head Nurses and/or Nursing Administration. Refers unit-specific occurrences or incidents for appropriate follow-up.
5. Provides input to Head Nurses and Nursing Administration for staff performance evaluations. Advises, counsels, and disciplines staff as required or requested during assigned shifts.
6. Responds to all emergency codes including Code Blue, Code Green, Fire, and Disaster Drills. Coordinates the hospital's nursing response during after-hours emergencies and ensures implementation of emergency protocols.
7. Demonstrates collaborative multidisciplinary partnerships working toward continuous improvement in quality patient care and the smooth running of after-hours operations.
8. Identifies opportunities to improve patient care quality and issues that may negatively impact patient care outcomes. Participates in identifying and implementing solutions through evidence-based practice.
9. Contributes to the achievement of clinical quality outcome indicators and patient satisfaction. Participates in Performance Improvement activities as assigned. Contributes to special projects linked to nursing strategic priorities.
10. Actively welcomes new staff and students to the assigned area and participates in retention activities. Contributes to the retention of all staff to meet the area-specific turnover rate goal.
11. Prepares shift reports and maintains accurate records. Ensures proper documentation and communication during shift handover to maintain continuity of care.
12. Promotes and maintains effective communication and teamwork across all nursing units during assigned shifts. Serves as the primary nursing contact for physicians and other departments after hours.
13. Develops and sustains own knowledge, clinical skills, and professional awareness. Maintains a professional profile with documented evidence of performance consistent with position.
14. Follows all hospital-related policies and procedures. Participates in self and others' education, training, and development. Performs other related duties as assigned.
